Sales of Gold for November

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The assistant treasurer of New York has been instructed by the secretary of the treasury to sell $2,000,000 gold coin during November as follows: $500,000 each Thursday

Explanation of the "Washington Note."

The discussion of the Spanish cabinet's reply to what is called in a late Madrid telegram the "Washington note," has reference to the unsettled questions between the two countries. The exact points of this official paper cannot be ascertained, but may be inferred from the views of the President, which form the basis of instructions to Mr. Cushing, and which show that the President regards the civil discussions in Cuba and especially sanguinary hostilities as producing an effect in the United States second in gravity only to those which they produce in Spain. The ultimate issue of events in Cuba will be its independence, however that issue may be produced, whether by means of negotiations or as the result of military operations or of one of those unexpected incidents which so often determine the fate of nations. The continuance of insurrection grows day by day more insupportable to the United States, and while the attention of this government is fixed on Cuba in the interests of humanity by the horrors of civil war prevailing there, it cannot fail to reflect that the existence of slave labor in Cuba and its influence over the feelings and interests of the peninsular Spaniards lie at the foundation of all the calamities which now afflict Cuba. But slavery cannot long continue in Cuba, environed as that island is by communities of emancipated slaves in the other West India Islands and the United States. The President has not been without hope that all these questions might be settled by the spontaneous act of Spain herself, she being more deeply interested in such a settlement than all the rest of the world. What decision the United States shall make is serious and difficult, and not to be determined without careful consideration of its complex elements of domestic and foreign policy, but the determination of which may at any moment be forced on us by occurrences either in Spain or Cuba. Withal the President cannot but regard the independence and emancipation of course as the only certain and even necessary solution of the question of Cuba, and in his mind all incidental questions are quite subordinate to these larger objects of the United States in this respect. The President does not meditate or desire the annexation of Cuba to the United States, but its elevation into an independent republic of free men in harmony with ourselves and with other republics of America. The policy of the United States in reference to Cuba at the present time is declared to be one of expectancy, but with positive and fixed convictions as to the duty of the United States when the time or emergency of action shall arrive

Our New Fleet of War Vessels.

The new sloops-of-war Alert, Alliance, Essex, Ranger, Adams, Trenton, Huron and Enterprise will soon be ready for sea and most likely will be in service before the end of the year. The Trenton is the only one not launched, but it is thought she will be by the 13th of December. The Alert is already in commission. The Alliance is now at Philadelphia and will soon be put in commission. The Ranger will in a few days go to Philadelphia to get her outfit. The Adams and Essex at Boston, the Enterprise at Portsmouth, N. H., and the Huron at Norfolk, Va., are rapidly being prepared for sea and their officers will soon be ordered on board. It is thought the Alert will be ordered to the East Indies to join our squadron there. The others will be ordered to join the North Atlantic fleet as fast as they are put in commission, and as vessels are needed abroad they will be ordered from the North Atlantic to foreign stations. It is the policy of the secretary of the navy to keep a large number of vessels in the North Atlantic fleet to relieve vessels abroad from his station when necessary. The Worcester, at present the flagship of that station, being very old, will be ordered to Norfolk as a receiving ship vice the New Hampshire, which will be sent to Port Royal, South Carolina, as a store ship for the North Atlantic fleet. The Hartford, recently returned from the Asiatic station, will be the new flagship. During the troubles growing out of the capture of the Virginius by the Spanish man of war Tornado our government suffered great inconvenience on account of the very weak condition of our navy, but since then the department has been doing all in its power with the limited means at its disposal to put the navy in good condition, so that we may be ready for any emergency. The iron-clads Montauk, Manhattan, Saugus, Mahopac, Nantucket, Ajax, Canonicus, Catskill, Jason, Dictator and others are in a sea-going condition, and should occasion require, could be put in service in five days

Snow in Washington, D. C.

Report of the Darien Canal Survey.

A Washington special says: Fred Collins, U. S. navy, commander of the expedition that made the survey of Attrato Napip, Atrato Napipi route, canal across the Isthmus of Darien last winter, has just finished his preliminary report to the secretary of the navy. A survey was made by this expedition from Attrato river to the Pacific ocean following the exact line found best suited for a canal for about 5 miles back from Attrato river. It was found very swampy and had great difficulty in carrying the survey over that section. After crossing the swamp the country was found very broken and hilly, but by deeping the hills near Napipi most of the bad hills were avoided. By following the valley of Duguado very deep cutting was necessary. The height of the divide was found to be 778 feet, and a tunnel was required for passing under three and a half miles long. The summit level of the canal as proposed is 143 feet above the plane of mean tide. Twenty two locks will be necessary for the ascent and descent. The distance of the canal survey is twenty eight miles in a direct line but necessary curves make it thirty miles. The officer, in giving full details of the cost of the entire canal and incidentals, estimates it at $80,000,000, to which he adds $25,000,000 for contingencies, making a round total of $100,000,000

Cheering News from Virginia City.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—A special from Virginia City says: "Gould & Curry commenced hoisting ore to-day for the Consolidated Virginia, and will hoist 200 tons per day. Work is going on at the Ophir shaft with great activity, putting timber in. The shaft will be ready for machinery by Wednesday next. Cages have been raised from the Consolidated Virginia shaft, and it is believed in three weeks' time the machinery will be ready and work going on again. The water in the mines, now below the 1,550 level, is steadily going down. The Ophir company have made arrangements with the Chollar company for the use of the engine and hoisting works of the latter, and they will be put in position at once. It is confidently expected that the work of hoisting ore will commence in about fifteen or twenty days. No caves have occurred in any of the mines. Mining men and stockholders take a cheerful view of the situation."

Relief for the Sufferers.

The relief committee are meeting with good success in their canvassing for money and supplies. Senator Jones has made a suggestion that an assessment of two cents per share be levied upon all Comstock stock, the amount to be put into the hands of superintendents of mines, to be paid to worthy and needy miners during the coming winter

NEVADA.

Death of an Editor.

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Oct. 31.—W. J. Forbes, editor of the weekly paper at this place, was found dead in his bed this morning. Deceased was 4[illegible] years of age, a native of Ohio, and an old pioneer of this coast. He had been connected during the last twenty five years with prominent journals in this State and California. The remains will be taken to California for burial

Burning of an Acid Factory.

CARSON, Oct. 31.—This morning the large acid factory of Duffy, Waitz & Co., situated in the eastern part of the city, was discovered on fire. The building, which is very large and made entirely of wood, with its contents, was destroyed. Loss on building $10,000, contents $5,000. Insured for $20,000 on building, $5,000 on contents

Rebuilding the Mining Works.

VIRGINIA, Oct. 31.—The work of clearing the ruins continues. The safes brought out from the debris are generally found with contents spoiled, but the vaults walled in have carried their contents unharmed.

About 500 people leave by to-night's train for California, being supplied with passes.

A car load of provisions is expected to-morrow from the Chinese merchants of San Francisco for their countrymen here.

Mackey says he has ten million feet of lumber at Huffaker's station, to be used in constructing Con. Virginia's hoisting works. It will be brought in as soon as the railroad tunnel is completed, probably by Tuesday next, when 800 men will be employed. Ophir will employ 500 at the same time. Mackey is confident that with this force the works will be running as usual in thirty days. Tools and stores to the value of $50,000 were destroyed in the Con. Virginia storehouse. New ones have been ordered. Mackey states that the regular dividend of Con. Virginia will be paid.

There is no gas, fire or appreciable amount of water in the Con. Virginia, California, Gould & Curry, Ophir, Savage or Hale & Norcross, the reservoir tapped in Con. Virginia having run itself out

ARIZONA.

Mining News.

PRESCOTT, Oct. 29.—Advices from various mining districts show considerable activity and everything looks encouraging. Some four tons of high grade ore from Silver Prince mine, Peck district, which assays over $2,000 per ton, arrived here to-day

Mail Carrier Attacked and Shot by Indians.

CAMP VERDE, Oct. 29.—The mail carrier of the Santa Fe mail was attacked last evening near Stoneman's lake, 18 miles from here, by what he supposed to be Indians. He was shot in the head, but the ball glanced off, leaving no serious injury. His horse was also shot, and not being able to carry the mail he hid it in the brush. He did not see any one, but says it was undoubtedly Indians.

THE TERRITORIES.

There is a good deal of typhoid fever in Olympia and vicinity

The Home Resort mine, which is owned by the Oro Fino Company, is yielding large quantities of rich ore, now being hauled to the mill

The extension of the Seattle and Walla Walla railroad to deep water on Duwamish river is proceeding as fast as the weather will permit, and will soon be accomplished.

The Port Townsend Argus protests most vigorously against the passage of the pilot law now before the Legislature. Its objection is that it requires pilots to go outside the straits.

Last Saturday General Milroy took possession of the books, records, etc., of the Indian agency of Washington Territory, and he is now installed as Indian agent in that part of the country

Judge Whitson, under date of October 22d, writes: "I have finally yielded to the protest of my physician, my own judgment, and that of my friends, against attempting to hold court in Owyhee county.

Mr. Reeves, of the Skykomish, a branch of the Snohomish, reports progress in those parts in settlements and cultivation, and thinks there are near him favorable opportunities for the settlement of a few families.

There were shipped on board the Zephyr, at Seattle, last week, some 57 knees for ship-building purposes. They are to be discharged at Tacoma, and to go from there to Portland by rail and by steamer on the Columbia river.

At the meeting of the town trustees of Olympia, last week, the resignation of Mayor Ellis was presented and accepted, and T. F. McElroy appointed to fill the vacancy. J. H. Houghton was appointed trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. McElroy

Mr. Catalow, superintendent of the Oro Fino mines, recently received an anonymous communication, threatening to burn down the works at that mine. It was signed "many miners on the hill," and gives as a reason for the threat that Mr. Catalow had given a saucy reply to a question asked him by some miner or miners

The British and American garrison buildings on San Juan Island, comprising a large number of dwellings, storehouses, outbuildings, offices, etc., will be sold by order of the United States government on the 23d and 24th of November next. The sales will take place separately, and the whole will have to be removed by purchasers within thirty days of date of sale

Andrew Laws, a young man of Fern Prairie, back of Vancouver, met with a serious accident on Friday the 28th. He was driving with a lady in a two-horse hack, the king-bolt dropped out and the vehicle went up before and down behind. Mr. Laws thrust his foot forward to brace himself, when the heel of his boot caught on the whiffletree and bending his leg over the dashboard, broke the limb between the knee and ankle joints. Both were thrown out and considerably bruised

"One who knows," writing to the Vancouver Independent, says: "As the Oregonian [illegible] to wish to know the names of those 'young ladies' who took premiums in the line of butter at the State Fair, I will say that Miss Mary E. Hathaway, of the Pioneer Dairy, was awarded first premium for fresh butter by a girl under 15. Miss Melissa Hathaway, of the Lake River Dairy, first premium for butter over six months old, and her sister, Mattie Hathaway, second premium for butter by girl under 15

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The ship Nation's Hope, from Yokohama, for orders, 49 days, arrived at Victoria last week

F. G. Claudet, late Magistrate for New Westminster, has accepted an important appointment at Runcorn, near Liverpool, England.

The bark reported outside at Victoria, and believed to be one of the steel rail vessels, proved to be a French bark in ballast, awaiting orders

A telegram has been received by Messrs. Casamoyou, of Victoria, stating that the bark Aboyne, from London, with a general cargo consigned to Messrs. Sproat & Co., was dismasted and obliged to put into Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, for repairs

News from Savyea creek in the Cassiar country, is very good. The company located above the discovery ground have got down to the pay dirt and are taking out from 2 to 6 ozs. to the hand. The diggings in this creek are deep, and Mr. Savyea, the discoverer, says no one ought to go there who is not prepared to sink shafts

Rev. Father Durieu, vicar general of the O. M. I., was consecrated a bishop at St. Mary's mission at New Westminster, on Sunday, Oct. 24th, by Bishop D'Herbomez, Bishop Lootens, of Idaho, and Bishop Seghers, of Victoria. The day was fine and pleasant and a large number of the clergy and laity of the Roman Catholic church were present, besides a vast concourse of Indians

A genius has set up a galvanic battery on Government street, Victoria. A sadeyed Minister of the Crown was observed to pause in his walk and gaze intently at the machine. He held in his hand a telegram of the Yale and Cariboo elections. "Want a shock, sir?" asked the man in attendance. "Shock! shock!" exclaimed the Minister excitedly, "I've had shock enough." "Oh, are you in this line, sir?" queried the man. "Do you go round shocking people as I do?" "No," exclaimed the Minister, "by heavens, the people go round shocking me!"

Tuesday of last week Lafayette was visited by a terrible wind storm, which sprawled fences in all directions, shook the houses till the occupants thought they would fall, and did a vast amount of damage to orchards. The pupils in the schools thought the building was going over, and stampeded in short order.

A very heavy wind storm visited Dallas on Tuesday of last week. It commenced to blow early in the forenoon of that day, and didn't cease until night. Such was the force of the wind that it broke off large trees adjacent to the city, some of which were two or three feet through the trunk. It blew stronger than the "oldest inhabitant" ever saw it before.

At the election at McMinnville on Monday last some man voted a ballot that read, "one spool, No. 13; one spool, No. 14; one spool, black." We imagine that man looking sort o' silly that night when he went home, and about the first thing he heard was, "Did you bring me that thread?" and he didn't have anything in his pocket but an election ticket.

At McMinnville a few days ago Mr. Monroe Hibbs went to his father's stables, where a couple of horses were having a little row, and to stop the difficulty Monroe threw a stick at one of the horses. The horse made a desperate bound, and, striking its head against one of the timbers in the stable, received an injury from the effects of which it died in a short time.

The Westport settlement has lately received some valuable accessions from the middle and western States, and others will soon be on the way up in representations of those now here. The opening of the route from Westport to Riverside, a settlement of the upper Nehalem valley, located in Columbia county, is very greatly desired, and when it is opened will develop a fine region of country, which will become tributary to Westport and make that a point for a large and thrifty population.

The Yamhill Reporter says: "Bears have recently been playing havoc with Mr. D. W. McCall's Angora goats, having destroyed twelve of his flock in a few days. Mr. McCall thinks from the tracks of the 'villains,' that there were about four of them doing the mischief, and gave them several chases with dogs, but failed to catch any of them. The animals have made a timely exit from that part of the country, as a big hunt, on their behalf was beginning to take shape, when they made tracks for Tillamook."

The Baker City Democrat of October 27th says: "On last Friday two miners from the Snake river mines had a difficulty at Sparta, Union county, in front of Williamson's store. From words they—George Wilson and Thos. Corvin—came to blows, clinched and fell in front of the store door, and, our informant says, George Wilson fatally stabbing Corvin with a sheaf knife, from the effects of which he died in a few minutes. He also says that Wilson is in charge of a few men, and would be taken before Esquire Tucker on Saturday for examination. Corvin was to be buried on Saturday.

Some rogue cut the straps by which Forepaugh's two largest elephants were tied at Bennington, Vt., the other night, and the beasts ate up half an acre of potatoes and frightened a woman half to death by rattling her window blinds in the attempt to get some apples on the window sill. It was so dark she could not see a foot from the window, and when she opened the shutter a huge trunk was writhing about after the apples. The poor woman fell over backward, screaming, "Oh, what a snake"

DALLAS ITEMS.

DALLAS, OREGON, Oct. 29, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

In this section we have had a nine or ten days' heavy rain, and the weather is still gloomy and showery, notwithstanding [illegible] Frost made his debut this morning. [illegible] bad, of course.

The merchants of this place seem to be doing a lively business, their stores being crowded with customers, and their shelves and counters with goods.

E. G. Bolter has a fine new two-story brick nearly ready for occupancy with a stock of goods. The upper story, I understand, is to be used as a Freemasons' hall.

The manufacturing portions of the town are all busily engaged in their various pursuits, and [illegible] to be in a thriving condition.

A number of bears have been killed this fall within a few miles of the town. [illegible] plenty, and Dallas hunters rejoice.

The Dallas Review is about to appear in a new full dress, having made a commencement last week, and all agree that it is an improvement.

Prof. [illegible] has a class in penmanship at La Creole Academy, consisting of a large number of pupils. He also has several private [illegible]

By the appearance of the lumber lying about the streets, one would be led to suppose that the town [illegible] of Dallas intend to go about dry-shod, as soon as the rain lets up, so that side-walks can be constructed.

HARTRANFT.

A remarkable fact in the Pennsylvania political campaign, is the exemption of Governor Hartranft, who is a candidate for re-election, from attack by the opposition. Three years ago there was no man before the public in that State who was regarded with greater disfavor than he. His nomination at that time was jeered by the Democrats and deplored by the better portion of his own party. Although no one could point to a particular act of his which proved him unworthy of confidence, still he had long been officially connected with a crowd of people whose record was bad only, and he was naturally set down for one of them in all respects. But he was elected Governor of Pennsylvania, or rather, he was "pulled through." It was assumed as a matter of course, that the band of corrupt camp-followers who had taken possession of the Republican party of Pennsylvania for purposes of plunder, would have in him a constant protector. He therefore entered upon his administration under peculiar difficulties. He was watched with suspicious eyes by his own party as well as the opposition, his acts received always the most uncharitable construction they would bear, and whatever he said or did was criticised without much regard to whether criticism was deserved or not. But soon the more discerning began to say Hartranft was making a fair chief magistrate; and then the general sentiment of the people turned that way. His Democratic enemies were silenced. Those Republicans who had felt most mortified at his renomination became his best friends. He discharged the duties of his office with clean hands, and with the abilities of a good average State Governor. He had the opportunity to acquire much money by those means which are so well known to many of the politicians of the period, but he kept his hands out of the Treasury. The ring, whose palms itched in vain, became his enemies, but the people became his friends. To-day he is taking a conspicuous part in a vigorous campaign, but no charge affecting his integrity as a man or his faithfulness as an officer is uttered even by the adverse party. He is running against the strongest man the Democracy could have selected, Judge Pershing, a man of unblemished character, with a good Union record through the war times, and yet the Republicans will not have to "pull him through" as they did three years ago, but the indications are he will lead his ticket, and help to pull through the weak candidates. His is one of the few cases wherein a man is misjudged who is judged by the company he keeps. The only parallel case we know of on the slate of politics at this time is that of Governor Chamberlain, of South Carolina, who, though so badly connected politically that even the New York Times advised abolt to defeat him, has made one of the best Governors the Palmetto State ever had.

THE INDIANS.

The Pittsburgh Leader expresses the common sentiment of the country when it remarks, that although the personal honesty of Zach. Chandler has never been impugned, his appointment as Secretary of the Interior is a most unfortunate one. The principal subject upon which the Secretary is called to exercise a discretion that is not of a quasi judicial character and therefore fixed and limited by law, is the administration of the Indian bureau, and on this subject all his known sentiments tend in the wrong direction. The Leader truthfully says that after all that has been said against the present Indian management, it was a good deal worse under the old Indian ring, which it is predicted will soon be reinstated. This is a bad prospect, and we sincerely hope notwithstanding the discouraging circumstances, that such a calamity may be averted. Still, if the policy of turning the Indians over to the military be not carried out, the corruptions of the civil management may be stayed in the course of time, and the present system practically retained, or a better one established.

LET US SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Notice is given of a meeting to be held this evening at Oro Fino Theater, for the purpose of considering the necessity and practicability of establishing a Reform school. There is ample authority of law for the purpose, and for sending to the school children convicted of crimes. It should receive the support of every citizen. There is one lad only thirteen or fourteen years old, already convicted of a felony, awaiting action of the court on a motion for a new trial, and nothing between him and the penitentiary except that motion. Three others—some even younger—are awaiting trial on indictments for penitentiary offenses. These are not prosecutions unreasonably pressed against the lads, but prosecutions which have been instituted after all other means of restraint within reach had been exhausted.

It seems a pity to send such children to a prison designed for the worst class of offenders, but young as they are they have already learned the ways of old criminals. Unless we admit at once that the propensity to crime is innate in all vicious children and can not be suppressed by any reformatory agency, it is time something were being done to save the boys of Portland. Experience has demonstrated elsewhere that a large majority of the vicious children, if taken early in their downward course and placed under wholesome restraints, surrounded by moral and social influences of an elevating and refining character, with suitable instruction, can be saved. Let there to-night be a good attendance. The organization should be completed immediately, and the school established in temporary quarters in time to keep this first batch of infants out of the State prison, and to stop the rest of the little boys of the city who are on their way to the same place. It can be done now as well as it can be done after more children are lost.

A Eugene City dealer bought 30,000 bushels of wheat one day last week.

THE TIMES ON ZACH. CHANDLER.

For the benefit of those persons who affect to think our remarks upon the appointment of Zach. Chandler were inspired by feelings of hostility toward the Administration, we copy this paragraph from the New York Times, the leading Republican paper of the United States:

> Zach Chandler has been appointed Secretary of the Interior. We believe he has the reputation of being a "first rate story teller," and an amusing man to sit up with o' nights. If our readers ask us whether he has any better recommendations than these for his new post, we must answer that we do not know. We have already exhausted our stock of information about the new Secretary.

There is not the slightest danger, we take it, of our being mistaken for an admirer of Governor Ames, of Mississippi. We have said enough heretofore to indicate our opinion that he is a very proper person to hold the personal relations which he does hold to Ben. Butler. But when the opposition to his administration claim that the scarcity of work hands to take care of the cotton crop is attributable to his maladministration, we can not but think they are guilty of some very contemptible demagoguing. The effect is altogether out of proportion to the cause to which it is attributed. Do these people suppose little Ames' imbecile attempts to get up a war in Mississippi, which ended in nothing but a rebuke from the Attorney-General and a general sneer from the people, have driven enough field hands out of the State to affect seriously the supply for agricultural purposes? Of course they do not. It is the smallest kind of political pettifogging.

The Republicans and anti-Tammany Democrats having agreed upon a ticket for city offices to be run on a non-partisan basis, are working together harmoniously and with good prospects of success to scoop the Tammany money-changers out of the city offices. John Kelly, the successor of Tweed in the dictatorship of the New York Democracy, is showing himself possessed in an eminent degree of the qualities requisite for a successful leader of the element of society which constitutes the strength of the Democratic ring, and, unless checked before he becomes thoroughly intrenched, is likely to be about as hard to dislodge as his predecessor. The question whether the people of the city are again to be plundered by the Tammany thieves is to be decided in this election.

Elections will be held to-morrow in New York, Pennsylvania and several other States. The indications are that the Republicans will carry Pennsylvania, and possibly New York. In the latter State the parties have both declared unconditionally for hard money; in the former the Democracy have a rag-money platform, which they have been vainly endeavoring to ignore since the Ohio rag baby was put in its little bed. Naturally, public attention in the East centres more upon the contest in Pennsylvania than in any of the other States, that being the battle-ground of the inflationists.

THE CENTENNIAL JURY.

At a recent meeting of the executive board of the Centennial Commission, Hon. N. W. Beck with presented a report on the system of juries for awards, which was adopted and of which the following is a summary:

To Hon. D. J. Morrell, Chairman Executive Committee: The system which I present differs radically from those hitherto tried in international exhibitions. Awards have generally been made by an international jury of six hundred members. The apportionment of jurors to countries was tried on various bases, but was usually made on the basis of relative space occupied by products of each country respectively in the exhibition. The great jury was divided into numerous small juries, who examined the products and prepared lists of names of persons whom they proposed for awards, and the proposals thus made were confirmed or rejected by higher juries. This system brought together, unavoidably, many individuals unqualified for the work. The basis of representation was apparently fair, but its results were delusive. The countries nearest the exhibition occupied the largest space. Numerous remote countries filled smaller spaces. The number of jurors allotted to the latter body left them in many instances without jurors on many classes, and thus in voting on awards they had no voice, and the awards were in effect decreed by the few contiguous countries. Written reports were not usually made by juries, and if made, were not printed, consequently no person outside the jury knew on what ground awards were made. Medals, when distributed, were silent verdicts and awards thus made conveyed little useful information. Awards were based upon anonymous reports, or reports not published, and final decisions were recorded in vague and mystic language not satisfactory to producers or public.

The method of awards adopted by the Centennial Commission differs from this system. It dispenses with the international jury, and substitutes a body of 200 judges, one-half foreign, chosen individually for high qualifications. It dispenses also with the system of awards by graduated medals, and requires of the judges written reports on the inherent and comparative merits of each product thought worthy of award, setting forth its properties and qualities and presenting the considerations forming the ground of the award. Each report has the signature of its authors. The professional judgment and moral responsibility of the judges being thus involved, the integrity of the reports is assured. The success of this method absolutely depends upon the judicious selection of judges, and to this point I desire to call particular attention.

In this connection it may be remarked that the best judges of products are not usually found among their producers but among their consumers. In brief, the food products of the world find most accurate appreciations as regards their inherent qualities and comparative merits in great consuming markets, where similar products from all regions are gathered, and the practical judgment of the consuming public is pronounced from which there is no appeal. The principle in this applies not only to raw products, but in a general sense to manufactures and industrial products of all kinds. In this view of the subject the method of awards adopted by the Centennial Commission presents the great advantage that it is judicial rather than representative, and the commission is perfectly free to select judges from the best sources, regardless of localities.

The announcement of this method of awards has been received in foreign countries as far as heard from with expressions of distinct approbation. I need hardly add that the useful results and success of our exhibition, and the public satisfaction which it should produce, as well as the reputation of this commission is practical and sensible man, depend largely on the selection of our judges, and finally upon their organization and work.

THE TWO RACES IN PHILADELPHIA.

A remarkable story comes to us from Philadelphia, behind which we hope there is some explanation yet to be given. In April last, a respectable colored woman purchased of the Mount Moriah cemetery a lot, receiving a deed therefor, and the assurance that the ground was as free to persons of color as to whites. Her sister was subsequently buried in this lot, without objection on the part of the association. Last week the husband of the owner of the lot died: a man of means, and respected, not only by the better classes of his own color, but by a large circle of white citizens, with whom he had transacted business. His remains were refused burial on account of his color, and the agents of the cemetery would not even allow the body to be placed temporarily in a vault, until means should be taken to bury it elsewhere.

It seems incredible that so flagrant an outrage of all decent or humane feeling should occur in a city which has been, for years the stronghold of anti-slavery feeling, and where the free colored class have reached a height of culture and refinement unknown elsewhere. Even in the far South, in the days when the slave-pen was a reality, and it was illegal to teach a black man to read, the feeling of personal attachment and kindness was strong between the races. The white child lay on the breast of its black foster-mother, played with her children, and as an adult nursed them, and was nursed by them in time of sickness; and it was no unusual matter to find some faithful slave buried in the family graveyard beside the master or mistress.

Ideas, such as are nourished by this very exclusive burying association, are in advance of the extremest bigotry of either North or South. The Philadelphia press is unanimous in condemning the outrage, and, as might be expected, it has caused, as does every extreme measure, a strong reaction in favor of the injured class, whom it was meant to humiliate and degrade.—New York Tribune.

DIED.

Near Bolivar, Tuscawarus county, Ohio, Oct. 3, 1875, Mrs. Elizabeth Kline, aged 81 years, 10 months and 18 days, mother of M. Kline, formerly of this city.

OBITUARY.

Wm. McKinney died at his residence, 12 miles southeast of Salem, of congestion of the bowels, with abdominal abscess, Oct. 20, 1875. He was born in Howard county, Missouri, Aug 20, 1820. On the 17th of April, 1847, he was married to Matilda Darby, and remained in Missouri until the 10th day of May, 1847, when he and wife started for Oregon, arriving in Portland Jan. 1, 1848. Mr. McKinney and wife united with the M. E. Church September, 1848. In 1858 with his wife and two children he visited Missouri. Deceased was a kind husband and affectionate father, truly devoted to every interest of his family, always having a true regard for the welfare of others. His chief aim was the educational interests of his children. He leaves a wife and eleven children, and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. His illness was short, but during this brief period suffered the most intense pain, but when he realized that he must pass away, put his trust in the Lord and said, he was willing to submit to His will.

Ordinance No. 1604.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving that part of A street lying between North Front and North West Park streets.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of A street lying between the west line of North Front street and the west line of North West Park street, shall be completed as hereinafter provided on or before the first day of December, 1875.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all plank or other obstructions (sidewalks, crosswalks and plank roadways of the proper width and grade excepted.) If the obstructions are not removed by the owners of the adjacent property within three days after notice, they shall be removed by and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of grading to the established grade, and laying sidewalks and crosswalks.

Section 4. The work to be done and materials furnished, shall correspond with the provisions of and under the restrictions contained in sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 12 of Ordinance No. 703, entitled "An Ordinance in relation to the improvement of streets." Except that the sidewalks shall be six feet in width with curb and two stringers, and that the crosswalks running east and west shall be three feet in width.

Section 5. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for, receive proposals and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this Ordinance.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Superintendent of Streets.

Passed the Common Council October 20, 1875.

W. S. CALDWELL,
Auditor and Clerk.

Approved October 21, 1875.

NEW TO-DAY.

"ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?"

GILROY, March 1, 1875.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: In an experience of three years with the Averill Chemical Paint more than one half the jobs have chalked, peeled or cracked off, notwithstanding the Paint was warranted to do neither, and out of sixteen failures, the "California Chemical Paint Company" have refused to furnish Paint to repaint but six of the sixteen. I refer to the following houses that have cracked, peeled and chalked off in this place: James Corey, H. C. Morey, M. D., Thomas Durrough, E. J. Bryant, E. H. Farmer, Frank Oldham, J. H. Trickey, G. Woodward, Thomas Gee, P. Ball, D. Whitney, William Wilson, J. M. Einfast, E. B. Hitchcock, J. A. Baxter, Music Hall, Catholic Church, and I might mention many more.

J. B. RHINEHART, Painter.

23 POST ST., SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11, 1874.

To Proprietors Chemical Paint Company—Gents: I had my house in Oakland painted with your paint. It was warranted to be good and satisfactory in every respect, I was obliged to have the third coat put on to make it look as if it had been really painted, and even then I think one good coat of Lead Paint would have given the house a better appearance. I think you ought to make up to me the loss I sustained, besides the annoyance I felt, knowing that an inferior article had been put on when a No. 1 article had been promised. Hoping to hear from you soon on the subject, I remain, Yours, resp'y DR HENRY KNOX.

Dentist, 28 Post street, San Francisco.

GILROY, Sept. 4, 1875.

To whom it may concern: Seeing in various papers that the "California Chemical Paint Company" continue to deceive people by saying that the Averill paint will neither peel, crack nor chalk off, I deem it my duty to say that my house, painted with the above named paint in the fall of 1873, failed in less than eighteen months after being painted, by peeling, cracking and chalking off in the worst manner imaginable. I also observe that the company have my name in their printed matter as reference; this was done without my knowledge or consent.

E. J. BRYANT.

GILROY, March, 1875.

To whom it may concern: My house, painted with the Averill Chemical Paint in June, 1873, failed in a little over one year after being painted, by chalking, peeling, wasting and changing color, some light color, some dark. The California Chemical Paint Company are knowing to this, and yet continue to deceive the public by saying that the Averill Paint will not peel, crack nor chalk.

THOMAS DARROUGH.

GILROY, Sept. 4, 1875.

To whom it may concern: My house, painted with the Averill Chemical Paint, manufactured by the "California Chemical Paint Company" of San Francisco, about two years ago, failed in less than one year after it was painted, by chalking off and changing color, and I had a portion of it repainted.

J. B. TRICKEY.

GILROY, Sept. 4, 1875.

To whom it may concern: I had my fence painted in the fall of 1873 with the Averill Chemical Paint, which was represented not to chalk, peel or crack off, but it chalked off in three months after it was painted.

P. BALL.

Then Use the "Rubber Paint,"

The Best Paint in the World.

SAN JOSE, Cal. March 20, 1875.

Pacific Rubber Paint Company, San Francisco—Gentlemen: I have used and sold the Rubber Paint in this city during the last four years. We have about one hundred buildings painted with the Rubber Paint. Among the prominent ones are the State Normal School, Gates Institute, City Market, the residence of Josiah Belden, J. W. Hinds, President Gold Note Bank, J. R. Arquello, Santa Clara, etc. It has never failed to give satisfaction, with a test of from one to four years, so that its durability has been well tested. My sales last year were nearly five thousand gallons.

Truly yours, AMASA EATON.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 22, 1875.

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gents: My residence, painted with the Rubber Paint about eight months ago, so far has proved all you claim for it. It is as bright and beautiful as when finished.

Yours, etc., WALLACE EVERSON.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22, 1875.

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gentlemen: I have used your Rubber Paint on my yacht; thus far the action of the water has had no effect upon it: so far as my experience goes, the Rubber Paint is the best paint ever used for painting vessels, especially in salt water. It adheres firmly to the wood, does not peel, and retains its gloss.

CAPT. EDWIN MOODY.

ALVARADO, Cal., June 10, 1875.

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gents: We, the undersigned, interested parties in the Odd Fellows' Hall of this place, feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to say to you that we are highly pleased, not only with the appearance of the Rubber Paint on our hall, but think it at least twenty per cent cheaper than any paint we could have used, and we also recommend it to all as superior to any other paint as regards its covering and spreading qualities.

WM. MORRIS LISTON, D. C. OWEN,

JOSEPH M. KEOWN,
Trustees Hall Ass'n, Alvarado, Alameda Co., Cal.
O. P. TULLER, Painter.

SALEM, Oregon, July 9, 1875.

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gents: After a careful and accurate test, gallon for gallon, of Atlantic Lead and Linseed Oil, and the Rubber Paint of your manufacture, and the Averill Chemical Paint, I find the Rubber Paint to cover more surface—two coat work—to the gallon than Lead and Oil Paint, and twenty per cent more than the Averill Chemical Paint.

Yours truly, JOHN HUGHES.

Report of the Grand Jury.—On Saturday the grand jury having completed its labors in connection with the State circuit court was discharged from further attendance during the present term They submitted the usual report from which we make the following extracts The grand jury was in session eight days, during which time 13 indictments were found; They expressed the opinion that a large percentage of the crimes committed can be directly attributed to saloons and houses of ill fame. The jurors visited as required by law, the different places of confinement in the county and were favorably impressed with the and discipline observable, as well as the cleanliness which pervaded every department. Especial mention is made of the excellent condition in which the State asylum and county poor house are kept also the admirable precautions observed against fire and facilities for effecting an escape. The jurors likewise recommend some change to the county jail, in order to avoid dampness by cutting down the block on which the court house stands, to a level with the bottom of the lower floor This improvement would also remove obstructions that prevent the prisoners from the enjoyment of plenty of light and good ventilation As frequent complaints are made concerning the imperfect acoustics of the court room the jury make the following suggestions Make the ceiling overhead rough, in some manner by panel ing or otherwise, and to cut off the west end of the hall twenty or thirty feet from the wall, the portion thus cut off to be converted into two rooms for court purposes. The hall-ways, at the eastern end of the building to be allowed to remain unchanged, and to construct a gallery overhead sufficient to seat several hundred persons. Some other slight alterations and improvements are recommended the total cost of which is estimated by the jury not to exceed $3,000

Burglary.—Saturday night between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock a house situated in the [illegible] portion of the city was boldly entered and about $40 in coin stolen The burglar gained admission to the building by means of raising one of the kitchen windows The gentleman of the house was sleeping up stairs; his wife who had a sick child was in a room on the first floor. The child was very restless, and the mother was awake until about 10:30 by its cries. She soon after fell asleep and was not aroused until 3 o'clock A. M., when she was astonished to find the drawers of the bureau pulled out On making an inspection of the premises the discovery was made that burglars had been in the house. The bureau stood within a few feet of the bed occupied by the woman and a lamp was sitting on a table in the room burning brightly To have purloined the money the burglars must have worked very noiselessly When leaving the house the unwelcome intruders left the window up through which they effected an entering, and the doors The windows were all fastened down with spring locks, and it puzzles the inmates not a little to know how the burglars managed to hoist the window without arousing them from their slumbers.

Passengers.—The steamship John L Stephens which sailed on Saturday from San Francisco, brings the following passengers [illegible], S. Lowenstein, Emil Frank J [illegible], Joe S Cobb, H Hamilton, J [illegible] wife, T Waterman, W. L. Adams, [illegible], T H Oakshott, W. H Cone, H. [illegible] Brayer, A. Hobart and wife, J H, [illegible] A. Wallace, B S. Weston, A. [illegible] M Devenney and family, Miss A. [illegible] E C Parsons, Mrs L. Watson, [illegible], Jos. Evans G. M. Dyer, J. F. Hepburn and son, J S Delaney, O P Forbes and [illegible] W. T Sherrick, Isaac Kay, Miss A S, [illegible] Mrs Butler and 3 children J W [illegible] and family, G Gundlach and wife, Mrs [illegible], Mrs McElroy, J. Fowler and wife, E. K. [illegible] J C. Taylor, J. O Green, [illegible], Miss F Frim, Miss L Howard Mrs C Bainbridge, Miss T Wolford, Miss O Levy, D M Sachs

The Ada Iredale.—Yesterday forenoon the British ship Ada Iredale arrived from Astoria in tow of the tug Brenham. In tow of the tug the ship left Astoria Friday morning [illegible]. The weather was quite boisterous the wind blew a fearful gale. After [illegible] with great difficulty against wind [illegible] for about 25 miles, the river became so rough that the vessel was unmanageable, and it was determined to come to anchor. The tug remained at anchor until about 5 o'clock Saturday morning, when both started up the river. The wind continued strong [illegible] so that the powerful tug could not make much headway with a large vessel [illegible] below the mouth of the Wallamet the tug settled down so thick that it was deemed prudent to let go the anchor again. This was done and the vessels remained until yesterday morning when anchor was weighed and the tug steamed ahead once more with the ship Early yesterday forenoon this port was reached The Ada Iredale was moored alongside Flander's wharf, and the [illegible] started down the river for Astoria

Harvest Concert.—Unitarian chapel, corner of Seventh and Yamhill streets, was densely crowded last evening on the occasion of the annual Harvest Concert, given under the auspices of the Sunday school connected with the church. The interior of the church was profusely and elaborately decorated with various kinds of fruits and vegetables, which were arranged with much taste The concert [illegible] it can with propriety be designated [illegible] of songs, rendered by the choir and a number of others, interspersed with recitations. Most of the songs rendered and pieces recited were appropriate to the event. The programme was quite brief but of rare [illegible] and the renderings of the various [illegible] delighted the large and fashionable [illegible]. A short address from the pastor, Rev. Mr Eliot concluded a pleasant evening's entertainment

A Bear Story.—A few days since, Mr W. N. Holmes, who resides on Rose farm a few miles east of Oregon City shot and killed a large black bear The animal was chased for some distance through the woods, and after badly mangling up a dog was compelled to take to a friendly tree from which it was [illegible] by a bullet sent from Mr Holmes gun. It was large and fat, and weighed over 400 pounds.

The Song Service.—Another large audience greeted Prof McGibeny and family at the Song Service last evening The entire programme was carried out as published with but two changes to the evident gratification of the assembly Mention should be made of the valuable assistance rendered by Prof Chas Bray, who did much to add to the pleasure of the audience by his fine playing on the violin

Number of Arrests.—One hundred and nine arrests have been made by the police during the month of October, classified as follows: Abusive language 7 assault and battery, 11 larceny 3 held as a witness 1 assault with a dangerous weapon 1 [illegible] 1, drunk and disorderly 81 [illegible] 1, violating ordinance No 981 allowing a vicious dog to run at large

Reached Her Destination.—By a cable dispatch we learn that the English bark Clyde has arrived safely at her destination yesterday. The Clyde sailed from this port for Cork on the [illegible] of last May She was dispatched by Messrs. Allen & Lewis and carried hence 11 [illegible] bushels of grain valued at $18 [illegible]

Officers Elected.—At the annual meeting of the Congregation Ahavi Sholum the following officers were elected L. Cohn, President, J Bloom Vice President M Hall Secretary Wm. Gollick Treasurer M Frank, I. H Wolf J Mitchell and S Abraham Trustees.

AMUSEMENTS.

New Market Theatre was crowded Saturday afternoon at matinee and also in the evening At matinee the familiar drama of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was well rendered to a large and fashionable audience of ladies and little folks "Jack Sheppard" and "Mazeppa" constituted the programme for the evening performance both of which pieces were well rendered This evening a very attractive bill will be offered and will beyond doubt draw an overflowing house The piece is entitled "A Night in Portland," and is an entirely new and original local play in four acts This play is from the pen of a well known member of the Portland bar and a gentleman of no mean literary ability The piece is founded on incidents of the great August fire in 1873 and nearly all of the characters of the play represent a number of well-known persons of Portland, Among those personated, we may mention the names of "mine host," Al Zieber, of the Clarendon hotel, Chief Lappeus, Tommy Buck, of the police force, Prof Cheney, Isaac Collagen, the well known bootblack, and others whose names are very familiar to this public The whole piece abounds in local scenes, incidents, situations and 'hits,' which serve both to interest and amuse For several days the play has been in active course of preparation, and will be produced in first-class style. The cast includes the entire strength of the company Persons of dramatic experience who have been present during rehearsals declare that the histrionic effort possesses considerable merit. Positively this will be the first and last production of "A Night in Portland, or, Rescued from the Fire and we advise lovers of the drama to attend

PUBLIC MASS MEETING.

A MASS MEETING OF THE CITIZENS OF PORTLAND FOR TAKING IMMEDIATE STEPS TOWARDS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A REFORM SCHOOL

At 7 o'clock sharp this evening, a mass meeting of the citizens of Portland will be held at Oro Fino Theater, for the purpose of taking the necessary steps towards the early establishment of a reform school in this county The subject of the establishment of a reform school in or near this city has been agitated for several years but has as yet resulted in nothing satisfactory Whatever thought may have been given the important matter it has culminated in no action From time to time the subject has been raised talked of from the pulpit and bench and agitated through the press but still no reform school has been established There is a strong public sentiment pervading the community that such an institution ought to be established but for want of united effort and concerted action the matter has been procrastinated and although the public mind is ripe on the subject the attainment of this much desired object is no nearer accomplished than it was some years ago At length the alarming prevalence of juvenile depravity and the daily recurring question of What shall we do with the boys? have pressed the subject home to every citizen of Portland and they think very properly that something should be done and at once Those who have been most active and earnest in advocating the founding of a reform school have availed of the opportunity presented by the circumstances of the trial of the four small boys—Reynard, Carroll Dougherty and Connor—in the State circuit court for the crime of larceny to press the subject more deeply than ever before on the public mind of the urgent necessity of such an institution It is for the accomplishment of this object that the meeting has been called this evening All that is required is for the citizens of Portland to raise the paltry sum of $2 500 If that amount is subscribed then the county stands pledged to appropriate an equal sum from the treasury and also to donate a piece of land of not less than 20 acres nor more than 50 If the people of Portland will raise to-night $2 500, then the sum of $5 000 stands pledged for the establishment and maintenance of a reform school and a tract of land is donated on which the institution can be founded and it desirable work can be commenced to-morrow morning It is a plain and simple proposition and our citizens will be called upon this evening to settle the question Shall we have a reform school?

CASSIAR.

The following news from these mines is collated from late Victoria exchanges:

On Thibert creek we hear that there have been about 100 men working steadily this season, the bulk of whom have done well Joe Hugon, of the Star Co, is reported to have taken out $8 000 from about 130 feet of ground Thibert washed up in one week a little over 100 ozs Our informant thought the creek would average about $1 000 to the interest all through Wages had been $8 a day and during a part of the season labor was scarce so many going prospecting and a man who got steady work might easily come out with $500 or so to the good, Plenty of ground still remains at the upper end of the creek

On Dease creek it is estimated that some 300 or 350 men have been working Tom Gallagher is said to have taken out about $20 000 in three weeks, with himself and two men working John Fitzgerald's claim is stated to have produced $10,000 or $12 000, and the French, Caledonia and Three to One and Chas Jones companies are all reported to have done well Above the rapid there are good prospects for next year.

Encouraging news has also been received from Boulder creek, a tributary of Thibert creek which falls in opposite to the above named shaft, and all the ground on that stream was taken up Jim Ferguson who drove a buggy between Victoria and Esquimalt and is well known here, says he would not take $10 000 for his interest in the Discovery claim on Boulder creek.

On McDame creek the discovery claim is doing well The Mitchel Co is asserted to be making 50 ozs a day, with three interests Hilton Angus Campbell and Young are doing well, and some benches on the upper part of the creek yield favorable prospects, and other benches on the lower part of the stream prospected $20 to the hand Three hundred men have been working here with fair chances for all Wages are $8 a day on the benches, and $10 in the river.

On Trout creek two or three claims are doing well.

A. Johnson has returned from his tour to the headwaters of the Stikine river, and reports that after getting away beyond the gold range they returned on their tracks, and on the second North Fork struck good coarse gold but were obliged to leave by the weather They will return next year

No further news from the Deloire country The diggings generally are shallow J Fitzgerald and the French Co from 10 to 14 feet are reckoned about the deepest Many companies were still working as late as the 9th of October

Make yourself charming to receive the "full moon" by the use of Neilson Jacket Pattern corner Fourth and A streets

Mr John O'Neill, the popular merchant tailor took his departure on the steamer for San Francisco where he goes to lay in a large stock of goods Immediately on his return to Portland, Mr O'Neill will open the large storeroom on the corner of Stark and First streets formerly occupied by S L Marsh & Co He will carry on an extensive tailoring establishment and also keep a large and fashionable assortment of gents' furnishing goods Mr O'Neill will return in a few weeks, when he will be pleased to meet all his old friends and customers of whom John has scores.

Drs Adams & Owens First street bet Taylor and Yamhill give medicated atomized vapor baths which work wonders in curing rheumatism and other chronic diseases

MR. SOPER'S UNFORTUNATE ATTEMPT TO AMUSE HIS SICK WIFE.

[From the Allegheny Mail]

Mr Soper's wife has been very sick for some weeks but although extremely reduced in body and mind, there is still enough of the true woman remaining in her which led her last Monday in a faint whisper to ask her husband, who had entered the sick room with a funereal cast of features what was the news

Well, answered Mr Soper, sitting uneasily down on the extreme edge of a chair and balancing his hat on his fingers by the brim there ain't nothin to speak of in partic'ler S'pose you heard of Miss Coles death she was taken the same time you was

I should think James said Mrs Soper with a feeble emphasis that if you couldn't find something more cheerful to say to your poor sick wife you'd hold your tongue

Cert'nly said Mr Soper meekly 'only news is so scarce Lemme see, he continued looking thoughtfully into the crown of his hat as if he had a reserved fund therein you heard 'bout Marthy Carter's breaking her leg?

A snappish nod of the head from the invalid signified to Mr Soper that he was on dangerous ground, but after a moment's reflection he brightened visibly as he said

You orter been to town meetin a Mond'y The town's voted to have a new hearse an I never was so glad of anythink in all my life

James Edward Soper," whispered his wife with a painful intensity, ' be you a nat'ral born fool or be you a lookin forrard to gettin rid of me?'

As the latter view had never presented itself to Mr Soper in the light of his wife's inquiry, he looked very much subdued, and scratched his head with an air of painful abstraction as Mrs Soper said again with a tearful voice

Oh you do go If you can't spare a few moments to set with me an jes give me some little interestin news I don't want to [illegible] sit continued with the sigh of a martyr

Mr Soper hastily expressed his will to remain and desire to please [illegible] after an interval of thought he continued [illegible]

Well lemme think I was over to the widder Stacy's las night to see if I couldn't make a trade for a Jersey heifer, an I tel you M'ria " said Mr Soper enthusiastically if she ain't a harnsum critter, I never see one"

An ominous light appeared in Mrs. Soper's sunken eyes and if her husband had been observing closely he would have seen a restless motion of the hands indicative of an apparent desire to make a personal attack upon some one or something but he saw nothing and continued.

'She's jest about the right size, an her skin as white as snow She's got the pootiest legs continued the unreflecting Mr. Soper, with a descriptive motion of the hand, 'an when you commence to talk about shape—why M'ria said Mr Soper, rising from his chair in his warmth 'she'll measure two feet across her breast—'

The scream which came from the afflicted invalid at this juncture was of such piercing shrillness that Mr. Soper placed his fingers in his ears and Mrs. Soper's mamma who was in the next room, appeared on the scene in the twinkling of an eye!

Oh you awful brute!' she exclaimed as she bathed her daughter's brow with hair oil in mistake for camphor, while the wretched man feebly endeavored to explain that he was only telling Mrs Soper about a Jersey heifer that he was going to buy

There ma,' said Mrs Soper with a gasp, " I'm better now '

"You'd better leave the room said the matron, with a word of significant wrath in her eye, and the unfortunate Soper departed, muttering, as he slammed the outside door behind him that he'd be master in his own house some day but he hasn't been yet, for Mrs Soper has recovered and her mother has taken up a permanent residence with them

To this day they don't speak to the widow Stacy, and Mr. Soper's reiterated explanation has always been received in dignified and incredulous silence

POE'S OPINION OF IRVING

In 1838, in reply to a request by Dr Nathan C Brooks, editor of the North American Review, for an article reviewing the works of Washington Irving, Edgar A Poe wrote the following letter

PHILADELPHIA, Sept 4, 1838

My Dear Sir I duly received your favor with the $10 Touching the review, I am forced to decline it just now I should be most unwilling not to execute such a task well, and this I would not do at so short notice, at least now. I have two other engagements which it would be ruinous to defer Besides this I am just leaving Arch street for a small house, and, of course, somewhat in confusion My main reason however, for declining it is what I first alleged viz I could not do the review well at short notice The truth is I can hardly say that I am conversant with Irving's writings, having read nothing of his since I was a boy save his Granada It would be necessary to give his entire works a perusal You see therefore the difficulty at once It is a theme upon which I would like very much to write, for there is a vast deal to be said upon it Irving is much overrated and a nice distinction might be drawn between his just and his surreptitious and adventitious reputation—between what is due to the pioneer solely and what to the writer The merit too of his tame propriety and faultlessness of style should be candidly weighed He should be compared with Addison something being hinted about imitation, and Sir Roger De Coverley should be brought up in judgment A bold and a prima investigation of Irving's claims would strike home, take my word for it The American literary world never saw anything of the kind yet Seeing therefore the opportunity of making a fine hit I am unwilling to hazard your fame by a failure and a failure would assuredly be the event were I to undertake the task at present The difficulty with you is nothing—for I fancy you are conversant with Irving's works old and new and would not have to read for the task) Had you spoke decidedly when I saw you I would have adventured. If you can delay the Review until the second number I would be most happy to do my best But this, I presume is impossible. I have gotten nearly out of my late embarrassments Neilson would not aid me being much pushed himself He would, no doubt have aided me if possible. Present my respects if you see him

Very truly yours,
EDGAR A POE

The Director of the United States mint—Dr. Linderman—estimates the yield of gold in this country during the next year at even one hundred millions of dollars; and, though the amount appears large, being an increase of about 33 per cent on last year's yield—the high authority making the estimate entitles it to credit, and answers in a measure the query as to where the specie with which to resume is to come from. This vast amount is nearly all expected from the Pacific coast; and, though much of it must of necessity be sent abroad, the advantages for producing nearly every article needed in ordinary life are so great in this land that a portion also ought to be retained in the States and Territories producing it. Were agricultural and manufacturing interests as largely developed in Oregon and California as they might be, this great out-turn of the precious metal would render business of every kind extremely active, and afford amply the sinews of a very large and growing commerce. Then there could be no pressure in finances on this coast, at least.

The stoppage of work on some of the Nevada mines will have its effect on the monetary situation on this coast, but its influence will be limited at this point and felt in a much less degree than at San Francisco.

The Secretary of the Treasury gave orders last week for the payment of the November interest on the public debt at New York on the 25th of October. This interest covers the balance of the 5.20's of 1862, the two series of the same of March and June, 1864, and the 5.20's of 1865. All these bonds pay 6 per cent per annum, payable semi annually in May and November. The quarterly interest on the Funded Loan of 1881 is also paid at this time. We do not know the exact amount of the various descriptions outstanding, but the interest to be disbursed will approximate $13,000,000. This sum, in connection with large imports from England, Canada and California, gave the gold market a weak tendency.

The Wheat Market.

The staple has undergone no change in quotation since our last, $1 75 per cental remaining at about the highest figure offering at present, with a prospect of even a still further decline next week. The hauling has become so difficult that receipts at the warehouses in the interior have greatly fallen off, and the railroads will soon clear out a goodly portion of that remaining along their lines. The rise in the river, however, will enable the boats to reach a good deal hitherto inaccessible and as the competition among steamboats insures cheaper freights than can be had by rail, those who sell now and freight by boat will realize quite as well as those who sold at a higher price and freighted by rail. Several [illegible] will fall due the coming week, and with the increased inland transportation an active movement ought to rule, but the drop in price will have a tendency to counteract what would otherwise follow. Some large transactions have occurred in [illegible] during the past week, though only a [illegible] of them were made in the interest of actual shippers, considerable quantities having been purchased for speculation. The bulk of the crop of Lane, Benton and Polk counties is still, according to our best information, in first hands, as is also the case in Linn; Marion, Yamhill and Washington have very large quantities yet in their warehouses, but have shipped more. Two thirds of the surplus of the latter county is said to be stored in this city held for an advance.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship John L. Stephens sailed from San Francisco for this port this morning, with a full freight and passenger list.

The British ship Lancashire has gone down the river to Astoria, where she will receive the balance of her cargo of wheat for Europe.

The Robert Dixon and Talisman, hitherto reported as chartered in San Francisco for this port, are not coming.

On Sunday before last 36 vessels arrived at San Francisco, including five ships, three schooners and two barks from distant ports. One of the barks was from Dundee, having been out 326 days.

The steamer Gussie Telfair arrived from the north at a late hour last night. The California is about due from the same direction.

The bark Blanche, for Liverpool, went to sea last Thursday.

The schooner Hera is due from San Francisco.

The British ship Ada Iredale, under charter to load wheat for Europe, has arrived at Astoria.

POND'S EXTRACT

"Hear, for I will speak of excellent things."

POND'S EXTRACT—The great Vegetable Pain Destroyer. Has been in use over thirty years, and for cleanliness and prompt curative virtues cannot be excelled.

CHILDREN. No family can afford to be without Pond's Extract. Accidents, Bruises, Contusions, Cuts, Sprains, are relieved almost instantly by external application. Promptly relieves pains of Burns, Scalds, Excoriations, Chafings, Old Sores, Boils, Felons, Corns, etc. Arrests inflammation, reduces swellings, stops bleeding, removes discoloration and heals rapidly.

FEMALE WEAKNESSES. It always relieves pain in the back and loins, fullness and pressing pain in the head, nausea, vertigo.

IN LEUCORRHŒA it has no equal. All kinds of ulcerations to which ladies are subject are promptly cured. Fuller details in book accompanying each bottle.

PILES—blind or bleeding—meet prompt relief and ready cure. No case, however chronic or obstinate, can long resist its regular use.

VARICOSE VEINS. It is the only sure cure.

KIDNEY DISEASES. It has no equal for permanent cure.

BLEEDING from any cause. For this it is a specific. It has saved hundreds of lives when all other remedies failed to arrest bleeding from nose, stomach, lungs, and elsewhere.

TOOTHACHE, Earache, Neuralgia and Rheumatism are all alike relieved, and often permanently cured.

PHYSICIANS of all schools who are acquainted with Pond's Extract of Witch Hazel recommend it in their practice. We have letters of commendation from hundreds of Physicians, many of whom order it for use in their own practice. In addition to the foregoing, they order its use for Swellings of all kinds, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Inflamed Tonsils, simple and chronic Diarrhœa, Catarrh (for which it is a specific), Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Stings of Insects, Mosquitoes, etc., Chapped Hands, Face, and indeed all manner of skin diseases.

TOILET USE. Removes Soreness, Roughness and Smarting; heals Cuts, Eruptions and Pimples. It revives, invigorates and refreshes, while wonderfully improving the Complexion.

TO FARMERS—Pond's Extract. No Stock Breeder, no Livery Man can afford to be without it. It is used by all the leading Livery Stables, Street Railroads and first Horsemen in New York City. It has no equal for Sprains, Harness or Saddle Chafings, Stiffness, Scratches, Swellings, Cuts, Lacerations, Bleedings, Pneumonia, Colic, Diarrhœa, Chills, Colds, &c. Its range of action is wide, and the relief it affords is so prompt that it is invaluable in every Farm-yard as well as in every Farm-house. Let it be tried once, and you will never be without it.

CAUTION! Pond's Extract has been imitated. The genuine article has the words Pond's Extract blown in each bottle. It is prepared by the only persons living who ever knew how to prepare it properly. Refuse all other preparations of Witch Hazel. This is the only article used by Physicians and in the hospitals of this country and Europe.

HISTORY and Uses of Pond's Extract, in pamphlet form, sent free on application to POND'S EXTRACT COMPANY, 98 Maiden Lane, New York.
